ORGANIZATIONS

Centers for Disease Control: National Center for HIV, STD, and TB Prevention

The correctional health website of the National Center for HIV, STD, and TB Prevention fosters collaboration between public health organizations and the criminal justice system by providing information on correctional health care issues to health care providers, the people they serve, and the general public (<http://www.cdc.gov/nchstp/od/cccwg/default.htm>).

American Correctional Health Services Association (ACHSA)

The ACHSA mission is to be the voice of the correctional healthcare profession, and serve as an effective forum for communication addressing current issues and needs confronting correctional healthcare (<http://www.achsa.org/>).

The Institute for Criminal Justice Healthcare (ICJH)

ICJH serves to integrate public health and the Criminal Justice System through education, research, technology and dialogue. ICJH advances and promotes the importance of total health and disease prevention in the criminal justice population for offenders. (<http://www.icjh.org/about.html>).
