Mission Statement

The John Jay Student Health Center is to support the institutional mission of the college to “prepare students for meaningful work and strengthen student learning, retention, and success.

The Student Health Center is designed exclusively to meet the healthcare needs of John Jay students. Our goal is to provide the highest quality health information that facilitates the physical, emotional, and social well being of students through accessible, high quality cost effective health activities and services.

The Center is staffed by a Health Services Director, a Nurse Coordinator, and a part-time Nurse Practitioner who ensures that students comply with New York State Public Health Laws for immunization of measles, mumps and rubella. In addition to primary care, women's health and nutritional care, the center also provides preventive healthcare and health education services. Where necessary, the Student Health Center makes referrals to low cost medical centers/clinics, provide on-site health screenings, and dispenses over-the-counter medications.

Eligibility and Cost

The Student Health Center is a primary health care facility available to all John Jay students with a valid ID. Most of the services are free of charge, other services are available for a small fee.

Medical Emergencies

In a life or limb-threatening emergency, dial 911 to reach New York City Emergency Medical Services.

For medical urgent needs when the Health Center is closed, the Security Office should be notified (212-237-8888).

In the event of injury on campus or during off-campus activities, the incident must be reported to the Security Office (T-Building, Room 530) and then the Student Health Center (North Hall, Room 1292). The Health Director will direct students as to how to file the necessary accident insurance claim.

Immunization Information

New York State Law requires that all college students receive two doses of Measles, one dose of Mumps, and one dose of Rubella or two combined doses of the MMR Vaccine.

Acceptable Proof of Immunity:

- Vaccination card from childhood
- Immunization records from your doctor's office
- High school's immunization records
- Blood tests proving immunity to Measles, Mumps and Rubella (MMR titer)

All immunization records must be endorsed by a medical provider accompanied by his or her license number. Records should:

Clearly indicate the vaccines, dates, name and location of the doctor or clinic

Be stamped and signed by the doctor or clinic with the doctor's licenses number

Be legible (readable)

Wellness Education

The Health Center provides health education with each visit and promotes wellness initiatives throughout the campus. The Center offers informational tools to handle most health issues. The Health Services Coordinator implements and oversees health outreach, such as health fairs, informational flyers, brochures, workshops and classroom lectures.
