

INTERVIEW PREPARATION

Interviews for jobs or internships are your opportunity to present yourself and your qualifications for the position you desire. Below is some general information about how best to prepare.

KNOW YOURSELF: Be sure you can easily communicate about your education and work experience, especially the ways in which they are of value to the prospective employer. Identify your areas of interest, your skills/abilities/strengths, and your values. Be prepared to cite examples that give evidence of your personal qualities.

KNOW THE POSITION & ORGANIZATION: Understand as much as you can about the nature of the position and the qualifications needed. You can get this information from the description of the job or internship. It is also helpful to talk to other people who have held the position or a similar one in another organization. If you are unclear about what a particular type of job entails, you may also want to consult general career guides that describe the nature of the work, typical salaries, etc. for different careers. These Links to these resources can be found on the Center's website.

KNOW GENERAL INTERVIEWING GUIDELINES: Remember that an interview is basically a conversation between two human beings. The interviewer's main goal is to get to know you, not to test or trick you. If you feel comfortable in discussing your background and know something about the position and the organization, you have no reason to feel nervous.

- Always emphasize the positive. If it is necessary to discuss negative aspects of your background (e.g. jobs or bosses you didn't like), try not to sound bitter or angry and don't make excuses.
- Don't hesitate to be the initiator in the interview. You know yourself better than the interviewer does, so it is your responsibility to be sure that all important topics are discussed.
- Be sure to answer the questions. Pay attention to what the interviewer is asking. If a question isn't clear, ask for clarification. Take time to think of your answer.
- Elaborate on your responses when appropriate. Give examples whenever possible.
- Bring copies of your resume and cover letter.
- Always dress in professional business attire. It shows respect for the position and interviewer.
- Turn your phone OFF.
- Always have a few questions for the interviewer prepared—do not pass up the opportunity to get more information from them!
- Make sure to collect business cards or write down names so that you can follow up in 1-4 days with a thank you note (email or hand written).

PREPARE FOR TYPICAL INTERVIEW QUESTIONS: No two interviews are exactly alike, but you can prepare to answer certain questions that are often asked. You should practice your answers out loud to hear how they sound, but don't try to memorize them word-for-word or you will end up sounding too rehearsed or might forget them if you are nervous. You may want to attend an interviewing workshop or schedule a mock interview to practice!
