ePortfolio allows students to demonstrate the process of their learning throughout a course or program and makes their own learning more explicit to them and their audience. At the same time, because the portfolio is a web site where they create and organize their best work, it is also a showcase for them to take beyond the classroom. Faculty who use ePortfolio praise this pedagogical approach because it fosters students’ thinking about audience beyond their professor and class peers and for students’ ability to see how individual assignments fit together.

As a participant you will:

- Create your own professional portfolio (allows you to experience what students experience while giving you a practical tool you can use to promote your scholarship and teaching);
- Learn to use our ePortfolio tool, Digication
- Become knowledgeable about resources to support your teaching with and students’ use of portfolio at the College;
- Identify goals and objectives for your students to use portfolios;
- Articulate the work students will do on their ePortfolios that furthers their learning; and
- Receive 10 hours NTA rate compensation.

DATES: Tuesdays, 1:40-2:55, 9/20, 10/18, 11/1, 11/15

For more information, please email Daniel Auld, Director of Student Learning dauld@jjay.cuny.edu
If you are interested in applying for a funded faculty development track position through the Teaching and Learning Center in 2016-17, please note the following:

1. Online applications will be available starting Wednesday, August 24 at http://www.jjay.cuny.edu/tlc-apply-register

2. Acceptance of applications will close on Sunday, September 11.

3. Review of applications will take place Monday, September 12-Wednesday, September 15.

4. Faculty will be notified of their application status on Thursday, September 16.

5. Funded track sessions will begin the weeks of September 20 and 26.

BE SURE TO NOTE:

- Participation in a TLC funded faculty development activity constitutes a commitment to attend ALL scheduled track sessions AND to meet expectations of giving back to the John Jay community through the activities specified on the track application.

- Both full-time and part-time faculty will be paid at NTA rates equivalent to their salary/wage status.

- Both full-time and part-time faculty will be asked to report extra hours and/or workload as specified by the Provost’s office.