ADVANCED CERTIFICATE IN RACE & CRIMINAL JUSTICE

This program offers advanced instruction on contemporary law and history of race relations in four critical areas of expertise: law, criminology, policing, and penology.

The Advanced Certificate in Race and Criminal Justice is appropriate for students who wish to engage in research; become public or private security professionals at local, state or federal levels; or join U.S. agencies concerned with civil rights and criminal justice.

A student may pursue the certificate independently or while pursuing a John Jay master's degree.

REQUIRED COURSES:
- CRJ 736 Seminar in Civil Rights and Civil Liberties
- CRJ 737 Race, Punishment, and Prison
- CRJ 738 Perspectives on Race and Crime in America
- CRJ 757 Police and the Community

TOTAL: 12 Credits

FEATURES OF THE PROGRAM
- Graduate level stand-alone certificate
- Requires 12 credits to complete
- Offered each Fall and Spring semester
- New York State Education Department certificate awarded upon completion

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS
Admission to the advanced certificate program will be based upon the following criteria:
- A bachelor's degree with a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher
- Appropriate letters of recommendation

HOW TO APPLY
For more information regarding the application process, please visit the Graduate Admissions website at www.jjay.cuny.edu/graduate

CONTACT INFORMATION
Professor Jeff Mellow
Program Coordinator
Office: 636.10 HH
Phone: 212.237.8035
Email: jmellow@jjay.cuny.edu

Revised 4/9/18