FALL 2016

REVOLUTION AND SOCIAL CHANGE IN CONTEMPORARY LATIN AMERICA

LLS 261.01
Reg. code - 25722

Mondays/Wednesdays
Period 6 (4:30 p.m. to 5:45 p.m.)
Professor Brian Montes

Fulfills requirements for:
- Major in Latin American and Latina/o Studies
- Minor in Latin American and Latina/o Studies
- Major in Deviant Behavior and Social Control
- Major in History
- Elective

Analysis of political and socioeconomic development, emphasizing major approaches of social change in the 20th century. Topics covered are class structures, demographic patterns, economic dependence, democratic liberal reform, neo-imperialism, the Mexican Revolution, the Cuban Revolution, and new trends of the last decade. A comparative, inter-American perspective, drawing on other relevant disciplines, is used.

If you experience any difficulty registering, please call the Department of Latin American and Latina/o Studies at 212-237-8749 or visit the department in Room 8.63.00NB