Urban Politics and Power in Venezuela: A Historical Assessment

Professor Alejandro Velasco
New York University

Alejandro Velasco is a historian of modern Latin America whose research and teaching interests are in the areas of social movements, urban culture and democratization. He is the author of Barrio Rising, which is based on years of archival and ethnographic research in Venezuela’s largest public housing community. Barrio Rising delivers the first in-depth history of urban popular politics before the Bolivarian Revolution, providing crucial context for understanding the democracy that emerged during the presidency of Hugo Chavez.

Tuesday, November 17th, 2015
4:00p.m.—6:00p.m.
Room L.76 New Building

For more information please contact Professor John A. Gutiérrez, jgutierrez@jjay.cuny.edu

Support for the 2015-2016 Latin American and Latina/o Studies Lecture Series is made possible by a grant from the USIFL Program, U.S Department of Education