Due to the ongoing COVID-19 crisis leading to the continued closure of CUNY campuses this spring, the 2021 Research & Creativity Expo will, once again, be presented through a variety of online platforms, such as webinars, and zoom symposia, organized by the programs listed below. As every year, John Jay College undergraduate and graduate students participate in the online 2021 Research & Creativity Expo, displaying works that cover a multitude of disciplines and led by dedicated faculty. Projects range from one to two semester-long capstone projects to long-term student-faculty collaborative work leading to publications, theses, or other proposals.

Please join us in celebrating our and your students' success!

Office for Student Research & Creativity

Opening Day: April 28, 2021 – 1:00-4:00pm

The OSRC Research & Creativity scholars' interdisciplinary final projects will be presented via live stream and, subsequently, permanently featured on the OSRC Wixsite. The presentations represent a diverse set of research and creative projects the 19 undergraduate and graduate scholarship students have accomplished over the academic year, under the close supervision and committed guidance of their respective faculty mentors. Register here for this meeting.

Annual Faculty Recognition Awards Ceremony

Opening Day: April 28, 2021 – 4:00-5:00pm

The Faculty Recognition Awards Ceremony is an annual event that recognizes faculty achievements in teaching, mentorship, service and research. These awards are internal to the College and recognize both full-time and part-time faculty. Register by April 27 here.

John Jay's Finest

April 29, 2021 – 4:00-5:30pm

John Jay's Finest is an annual publication honoring outstanding student writing from across the undergraduate curriculum. As every year, writings featured in the 2021 anthology have been nominated by the student-writers' professors and vetted by the publication's editors. Register in advance for this meeting here.

PRISM Undergraduate Research e-Symposium

April 30, 2021 – 4:00-7:00pm

An on-line celebration of our PRISM Undergraduate Researchers at John Jay. The evening will feature presentations by our Undergraduate Researchers and a keynote address by John Jay and PRISM alumni, Eugene Gonzalez-Lopez, Ph.D. Dr. Gonzalez-Lopez will share the lessons he has learned through his scientific career trajectory. During the live streamed event, PRISM students will present five-minute talks about their research on topics including forensic science, toxicology, biomedical sciences, chemistry, and computer science. Register here for this event.

Criminal Justice

May 3, 2021 – 3:00-6:00pm

The Criminal Justice Crime Control and Prevention major senior students will present the findings of their senior capstone research projects. The students conceptualized and designed the research in Fall 2020 (CJBA410) and executed the research in Spring 2021 (CJBA411). Each student is mentored by graduate student mentors (5th year CRJ PhD candidates of JJ/GC) and faculty research mentors (CJ department) in undertaking the thesis research guided by the course teaching faculty Prof. Mangai Natarajan. The topics of the students' thesis research are timely and informative in policing especially racial disparities and use of force, judicial decision-making, sexual violence, gender issues including LGBTQ+, capital punishment, juvenile delinquency, human trafficking and wildlife trafficking.
