

Caitlin Baker is a senior of John Jay College of Criminal Justice double majoring in Forensic Psychology and Deviance, Crime, & Culture and minoring in Anthropology. She is also a Research Assistant in the OSRC, working to provide support for student researchers at John Jay. Caitlin's research interests are focused on ethnographic studies, especially regarding Hispanic and Latina/o identities.

Caitlin has been particularly active on campus through the Campus Activity Board (CAB), Habitat for Humanity, and Theta Phi Gamma Sorority Inc. She is also a current director for TEDxCUNY, which focuses on bringing new ideas to the forefront of everyday discussion. In the future, Caitlin aims to further her education in graduate school and use the tools the OSRC and other experiences have taught her to complete her research and make meaningful change in her community.
