Dear Friends:

It is my pleasure to send greetings to everyone gathered for the John Jay College of Criminal Justice 2025 commencement.

Since its founding in 1965, the John Jay College of Criminal Justice has become the top school of its kind in the nation for legal studies, forensic science, and criminal justice education. The College's dedicated staff and accomplished faculty offer a range of major paths, which promise both rigorous study and hands-on experiences, as well as student success initiatives that build upon individuals' academic and professional potential. This commitment to long-term success for students and society is what sets John Jay College apart as a distinguished and "justice-focused" institution.

Today, you come together for your annual commencement, where you celebrate your 60th anniversary and look ahead to the future, where you will continue to mold students into leaders and play a key role in ensuring widespread safety and equality. On behalf of all New Yorkers, I am grateful for your dedication to creating a more prosperous state.

Best wishes for an enjoyable event.

Sincerely,

Kathy Hochul
Governor
