A CALL FOR NOMINATIONS:

Dear John Jay College Faculty:

As every year, the Finest features undergraduate writing from across the disciplines at the college from all departments to honor their student writers with nominations. We will soon start reading submissions and would like to consider your students’ best work of spring 2020 for publication in the 2021 issue of John Jay’s Finest.

Here are the details:

- You may submit up to three undergraduate essays for the spring 2020 semester.
- Nominations for fall 2020 work will be accepted through January 15, 2021.
- To be considered for publication in the Finest, work must be nominated and submitted by the professor (student nominations are not accepted).
- To submit, please send work to jjfinest@jjay.cuny.edu.
- To view student publications of previous years, please visit our website.

With thanks,
Jeffrey Heiman & Adam Berlin, Editors

The spring 2021 issue of the Finest will be its 36th. John Jay’s Finest is a highlight of the essay-writing year, recognizing the serious, thoughtful work our students produce. Inclusion in the book speaks of the fine effort of the student.
